District heating is seen as one of the important ways to contribute to the EU's net-zero aim, while at the same time reducing operational costs and maintenance for property users. After intensive research and product development together with industry experts in insulation materials, we are proud to introduce Ecoflex VIP as a new technology standard for local and district heating networks that will contribute to global efforts to curb climate change and meet global sustainability goals.

You are kindly invited to learn all about it at our opening webinar

"The new Ecoflex VIP" on 26th of Feb at 11.00-12.30AM, where we first time present our 2021 year innovation in Local and District Heat Distribution.

The lecturer is a guest speaker - Michal Vimr, Uponor Product Marketing Director in LHD.

You will learn:

- Shortly about Ecoflex as flexible solution in heating and cooling distribution
- About trends in LHD
- About the new Ecoflex VIP and how it can reduce operational costs, installation time and CO2 emissions.
It's qualities like weight, lambda value, CO2 emissions amount, insulation performance and flexibility.

An invitation to join the TEAMS platform will be sent only to registered participants
